

H. F. STABLE, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

GETTYSBURG, PA.

MONDAY MORNING, AUG. 3, 1863.

DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET.

For Governor,

HON. GEO. W. WOODWARD,

OF LUZERNE COUNTY.

For Judge of the Supreme Court,

HON. WALTER H. LOWRIE,

OF ALLEGHENY COUNTY.

The Editor reported himself at Fort Mifflin yesterday week, as promptly as possible after the reception of the order to do so. He is now there, in good health and spirits. The public may accept it as true, beyond question, that what he has undergone in the last few weeks is attributable solely to the base intrigues of a malignant political opponent in this town. This point is now shown of all doubt.

Imprisonment of an Editor.—A few days since Henry J. Stable, Esq., editor and proprietor of the Gettysburg Compiler was reported in Fort Mifflin as a State prisoner having been sent there by an order purporting to have been signed by Major General Couch. The basis of the charge is that the accused, on a certain occasion whilst in Gettysburg, pointed out to the rebels the place where a number of Federal soldiers were sleeping, which led to their arrest. The whole affair is believed to be a sheer fabrication, and Capt. Andrews, the efficient and able Assistant Adjutant General, has written to the General upon the subject. Mr. Stable has good quarters at the above post, and yields his editorial quill with proper spirit and ability. —Idem. American, Friday last.

The soldiers who are in our midst are beginning to see the political workings of the graceless politicians of the Abolition persuasion, and have ascertained to their entire satisfaction that those who are vulgarly styled "copperheads" are thus designated simply because they are traitors and in their manhood and the exercise of their judgment have refused to kiss the ground where the present Administration stands and endorse their policy in the freedom of the negro. If to be a Democrat is to be a "copperhead" and to be a "copperhead" is to be disloyal, then be it known that in the State of Pennsylvania there are about 200,000, no, a false issue has been made—the low, craven defamers of their neighbors, whose political zeal has run riot with their integrity and truth, have, in order to get the spoils of office, used every epithet unworthy of gentlemen, against the followers of our Constitutional policy.

Let the world know it—we are Democrats, and glory in the name and principles of the name, and believe that its mission will yet return to us a nation united, prosperous and happy.

DEATH OF MR. CRITTENDEN.

"A great man has fallen in Israel." Hon. JAMES J. CRITTENDEN, the sage, statesman, and patriot, has passed from earth, and been gathered to his fathers. He died in the city of Frankfort, Kentucky, on Sunday morning, at 3 o'clock, without pain or a struggle, in the full possession of all his faculties, at the ripe old age of 77 years. Thus, one by one, are the old patriarchs passing from the stage of existence. Who will be worthy to fill their places in this dark hour of our country's existence God alone knows.

Our readers should remember that in sending papers away they must use a two cent stamp, instead of a one cent one as heretofore. The stamp for this purpose is printed black, and has a portrait of Andrew Jackson upon it.

The Hon. Phil. Stevens, of Pennsylvania, who advocated in one of his speeches the "burning of every rebel mansion," has had to take some of his own medicine. The rebels have destroyed his extensive iron-mines, near Gettysburg, and stolen all his horses. His personal loss by their depredations is said to exceed $50,000.

The Chambersburg papers say that the meanest and most cruel-hearted rebel who visited their town, during the recent raid, was Major Todd, of Kentucky, a brother-in-law of President Lincoln's. He is the man who came near having his skull cleaved in two by a brave "copperhead" lady.

The dispatches to Richmond rather beat our despatches in mendacity. As late as the 8th, the Richmond papers claimed that Lee had won a great victory—captured forty thousand prisoners. Wonder if there are not brokers or politicians at Richmond who have Confederate scrip for sale.

The slaves of the rebel officers in Vicksburg were a source of trouble after the surrender. Gen. Grant settled it in a sensible way—he is a man of sense!—by allowing all who wish to go with their masters to do so. If they remain in our lines and ask protection, they cannot be removed.

The administration papers howl because Gov. Seymour addressed the people in the Park the other day, calling them "my friends." But, spoken to thus kindly, they dispersed; and there can be no doubt that the kindly speech did more towards quieting the excitement in the city than all the military force that was used.

H. F. Meyers, Esq., the fearless editor of the Bedford Gazette, has been nominated for the Legislature. Mr. Meyers is an accomplished gentleman and will make an energetic Legislator.

Our exchanges come to us from various portions of the State with lists of the drafted men in their respective sections. We have not heard of the slightest disturbance there in this State.

Jeff. Davis has set apart the 21st day of August as a day of humiliation and prayer in the so-called Southern Confederacy.

THE WAY TO SECURE VICTORY.

We are glad to learn that the good work of thoroughly organizing the Democratic party is earnestly progressing throughout the State. The approaching meeting of the Democratic State Central Committee will add a new impetus to this movement. The able and energetic Chairman, the Hon. Charles J. Eddle, will be found equal to every emergency; and, we have no doubt, that under his direction, the campaign will be vigorously and energetically prosecuted. But we must have the hearty co-operation of every Democrat in Pennsylvania. There must be no individual lukewarmness manifested in the present struggle. At no time in the history of our party, were greater personal exertions necessary. Success is within our grasp. We have only to reach forth our hands and secure it. The people are ready to strike a blow which will forever prostrate the power of Abolitionism. To make the victory complete and overwhelming, we must wheel the whole Democratic column into line, and present an unbroken and undivided front to the enemy.

There is a well grounded and firm belief among the people, that the Democratic party is the only organization that can save the country. They have witnessed an abuse and mal-administration of power on the part of the Abolitionists that causes them to recoil with horror at the fear of a continuance of these evils. They have seen the dearest privileges of the citizen assailed, and the constitutional rights of the States invaded by a party whose only object now seems to be the emancipation of the slaves and the equality of the negro with the white freemen of the Republic. They have heard it boldly proclaimed by the Jacobins that "this war is for the African and his race," and they have been appalled by the infamous announcement of an Abolition member of Congress, at a negro meeting in this city, that "the colored men are the ones who are to save this nation." Seriously alarmed at the frightful future stretching before them, they are ready to use every honorable means to crush the monster which is destroying the country, in whose welfare and prosperity all their hopes are centered. Hence they are willing to engage in the work of organization, with a zeal and energy never before exhibited. It will, therefore, be an easy task to accomplish this great purpose, if the proper efforts are quickly made to turn the current in the right direction. Let the County Committees at once begin to fully co-operate with the State Central Committee. Let each individual Democrat aid and assist the efforts of the local committees, as far as lies in his power. Let light be spread, meetings held, addresses delivered, clubs formed, and the whole machinery of the united and harmonious party be called into immediate requisition. If these things be done, the triumph will be as certain as the advent of the second Tuesday of October. —Idem. Age.

WELCOME THEM BACK.

Everything that can be done by the administration without sacrifice of honor should be done to close this bloody and ruinous war, and welcome back the rebellious States into the Union. Now is the time to do it—now, when victory has perched upon our banner, and the Southern people feel the hopelessness of the struggle. Let us add, too, that the attitude of France and Great Britain toward us should hasten action; for while, united, we could safely defy the world in arms, divided, and fighting among ourselves, we might find a prey to the power of these two nations. The N. Y. Sun, in view of the Union feeling and movements in Louisiana, Tennessee, and North Carolina, says:

"It is to be hoped that a wise statesmanship may influence the Washington government to encourage by every means these hopeful movements in the seceded States. Every agreement of imposing conditions should be scrupulously avoided except the one imperative requirement of fidelity to the Constitution of the United States. The American people are especially tenacious in repelling all restraints that do not necessarily proceed from constitutional law, and will not yield obedience, even to these, unless they accord with their reason and conscience. We should be careful then not to impose any burdens on the Southern people which we ourselves would not touch with our little finger. Let us have faith in our national destiny and events, and freely welcome back to the Union and the halls of Congress, all who may be willing to resume their obligations to the Constitution as it is, and the Union as it was."

It is pretty well settled in the public mind that the spirit of lawlessness which pervades the North, is owing to the revolutionary and treasonable teachings of the Abolition party. For many years past the Abolitionists have advocated resistance to a law which was passed by Congress in conformity with the Constitution of the United States. They treated the decision of the Supreme Court in the Dred Scott case with sovereign contempt, and they openly violated all statutes that interfered with the progress of their anti-slavery doctrines. The whole responsibility of the recent fearful riots is upon them, and they will be compelled to meet the issue at the ballot-box.

Good News From a Far Country.—The sharp quick click of the magnetic finger, brings us the brief news that "the election in Washington Territory has gone largely Democratic." There is nothing more—no particulars are given of the triumph of the Democracy in that far off region. Yet, the intelligence, meager though it is, gives us great cause for rejoicing. It speaks of better things for the Republic. The ascendancy of the Democratic party throughout the country is the only salvation of the nation; and the distant Territory that bears the name of Washington was a fitting spot for the work of political regeneration to commence.

Seizure of Jeff. Davis's Private Library and Correspondence.—The special correspondent of the N. Y. Herald, in a communication dated "near Jackson Mississippi, July 12, 1863," states that a company of cavalry, escorting a foraging train, having learned from a negro where Mr. Davis's library was, proceeded to the house, where they found thousands of volumes of books, a few bushels of private and political papers, and several valuable gold headed canes, one of them presented by Franklin Pierce. The papers are said to be of great political importance. Of course everything was seized. Some of the letters and papers have been sent to the Herald and will no doubt be published if of any consequence.

DO THEY WANT A RETURN OF THE REBELS?

The Abolition-Jacobin journals, having recovered somewhat from the fright they experienced recently, occasioned by the rebel invasion of Pennsylvania, are again busy at work in concocting and publishing treason and slander. Again they hold out to the rebels that a majority of the people of the large Northern States are in favor of the South and secession, thus giving our enemies another invitation to invade our soil. It was the publication of this infamous and devilish slander that induced the rebels to invade Pennsylvania. For the last year or more the Jacobin papers of Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Ohio and Illinois, and in fact all the Northern and Western States, have been publishing to the world the monstrous lie that the Democrats of these States were "in favor of Southern treason and desired to see it successful." Gov. Seymour of New York, Gov. Parker of New Jersey, Judge Woodward of this State, and Mr. Vallandigham of Ohio, have, one and all, been classified as "secession sympathisers," who were very solicitous for the success of Jeff. Davis's humping Confederacy!

The men belonging to the Southern army received these lying sheets almost daily, and after reading them, and considering that the Democrats held the majority in the Northern and Western States, concluded upon an invasion of the North. It was only after they arrived in Pennsylvania that they discovered that the Democrats were the only enemies they had to fear, for as a rebel officer remarked in our hearing, "the Republicans, and their allies, the negroes, nearly all fled at our (the rebels) approach, but Democrats remain at home to protect their properties and families, and to thwart us in our movements and expose our designs." The same rebel officer also mentioned that their "visit to Pennsylvania convinced them that the statements they had so often read in the Abolition papers were all false. They now discovered that the Democrats instead of being friendly, were their worst foes." "We care nothing for the Abolitionists," he said, "their creed of emancipation, confiscation, and subjugation, helps us, for it unites our people to a man; but the doctrines of a restored Union and Constitution, with rights guaranteed to every State, as advocated by the Democrats, is calculated to do us harm, for it divides our own people and creates disputes." "We do all we can," said the rebel, "to have Abolition papers circulated in our country, but we never permit a Democratic paper to go South if we can help it." &c.

Judging then from the language used by this rebel officer, whose words we quote, we are satisfied that the rebel invasion of Pennsylvania never would have been thought of had it not been for the persistent lies of the Jacobin papers, who assured the rebels that they would be received with "open arms" by the Democrats. The rebels were invited into this State by the Abolitionists, and those who lost property by the invasion may thank the leaders of that infamous party for it.

These Jacobin papers are again publishing that the people of the North are divided in opinion, and that a majority favor the South. Do they want another visit from Lee? But, we opine, Lee will not again invade Pennsylvania; he was once deceived by the lies of Abolition scribblers, and will not be deceived a second time. The Jacobin papers, however, appear very anxious to have the rebels make us another visit. If the rebels are again induced by Republican invitations to invade our State, the farmers whose horses, cattle and flour are to be captured by them, should take these papers in hand and deal with them as they deserve. —Carlisle Volunteer.

SOUND DOCTRINE.

The Portland Argus thus discourses upon the "draft."

"We have hoped, we still hope—almost believe, that this conscription business will be given up—the men never called for, and that voluntary enlistments with liberal bounties will be substituted for it. Since the recent glorious successes of our arms, we believe it might be successfully obtained than by force. To avoid this, and expense by conscription, the authorities should consider the ever so much more, and even more successful, we counsel all to offer no resistance other than to bring the matter before the courts. The court and the ballot-box afford the only lawful remedies for unconstitutional and unjust enactments, and good, law-abiding citizens will resort to no other. Violent resistance to officers of the law, is mob violence. It leads to anarchy and its untold horrors. To avoid this, it is far better to bear evils, for a time, and even submit to them, than to offer no resistance other than to bring the matter before the courts.
